Our products

ABWEHR manufactures steel entrance doors in ten design segments, as well as in seven design collections, from classic to modern. Many exclusive design models are available. Besides, the company provides a wide range of additional options.

Segments

Structurally, the doors of TM ABWEHR are manufactured in 10 segments beginning from economic models and ending with elite class, which differ in size of components and availability of various elements that improve such properties of the doors as durability, heat and noise insulation.

Design

By design, the doors are divided into several collections, which are designed for different taste preferences and meet different stylistic architectural solutions. Various designs, aluminum and stone inserts, a large number of color coating solutions will not leave the most demanding buyer indifferent.

DESIGN COLLECTIONS

collection MODERN

The MODERN door collection features a variety of designs with light and modest patterns. The doors are presented in a wide range of decor colors combined with light laconic lines. The collection models are suitable for many exteriors and interiors of buildings and apartments. Doors of this line are available in most segments, so it has both inexpensive universal solutions and more reliable ones.

collection LOFT

The LOFT collection presents doors with simple, laconic and trendy design that meets today's market demands. The presence or combination of wood, metal and glass in the models underlines the basic concept of the style. These doors are designed for the new generation, who prefer individuality, ease and keep up with the times.

collection CLASSICA

The design of the CLASSIC Collection is light, modest classic shapes that create harmonious integrity and unique aesthetics. This line is for people who value elegant chastity. The variety of design combined with wide choice of colors in the decor makes the doors of this collection the most popular on the market.

collection RETRO

The design of the RETRO collection doors is more than just classics. It's a combination of beauty and fineness. The rich ornament in combination with properly chosen texture of the film makes the doors bright and attractive. For several decades, retro style does not leave the top position. Its popularity can be explained by the ability to maintain an atmosphere of family comfort and warmth.

DESIGN COLLECTIONS

collection RETRO GLASS

The design of the RETRO GLASS collection combines the fineness of ornamentation, glass and forged elements, which gives the doors a striking personality, and status to the apartments. Forged artistic decors bring a special twist into the design of the door leaf and to the overall exterior of your home. The collection is created for the people who like to combine practicality of operation with visual beauty.

collection STREET DOORS

The Street Doors Collection is designed for private homes and is divided into two series - PROTECT and DEFENDER. These doors are particularly reliable, strict and stylish. The PROTECT series is made of blind doors and glass, and the DEFENDER series offers the choice of one of many stylish MDF linings. If you are a fan of sophistication and style, you will like these models.

collection QUADRO

The design of the QUADRO collection is made primarily for wide entrances and is a two-leaf door design where one of them is smaller than the other. This line contains both classic and modern door designs for buildings in different architectural styles. Many models use glass and forged elements to give the door a refined and solid look.

collection NEW

The TM ABWEHR lineup is constantly updated. We are pleased to present both popular models and exclusive designs. Door fashion trends make progress, so our range is changing. And any buyer, from conservative to experimenter, will always be able to find his perfect model.

Quality control

We have a scrupulous attitude to the quality of the steel doors produced. We consider that to be the basis for our competitive advantage and the main criterion of our reputation in the eyes of buyers.

In our shops all products are subjected to multi-stage control beginning from the audit of raw material suppliers and the acceptance control of input products required for manufacturing steel doors, as well as the analysis of each production stage (for meeting the set parameters), and ending with release/loading of the finished product.

Such approach is expensive. It requires very careful attitude to work and instant response to any departure from the norm. The quality control during the production is ensured by the quality control services. We do not save money on this process and put it in the first place, while emphasizing the role of quality in the final product.
